

Sin Revisited By Solange Hertz

In Sin Revisited Solange Hertz tackles the topic of sin with a unique perspective for modern times delving into the intellectual approaches of the Desert Fathers as well as St. Augustine. An established writer before the Second Vatican Council, Solange Hertz wrote for most Catholic periodicals and had five books to her credit, one a selection of the Catholic Literary Foundation. After a series of articles on feminine spirituality for the old Triumph magazine she continued speaking for tradition by successfully producing The Thought of Their Heart and Sin Revisited on her own. Currently her art An established writer before the Second Vatican Council Solange Hertz wrote for most Catholic periodicals and had five books to her credit one a selection of the Catholic Literary Foundation. After a series of articles on feminine spirituality for the old Triumph magazine she continued speaking for tradition by successfully producing The Thought of Their Heart and Sin Revisited on her own, In Hertz's own words: "Don't expect to find the seven deadly sources so familiar in song and story: You'll find eight and even these won't be in the same sequence most of us are used to. This approach is newer than Vatican II because it's so much older if you know what I mean very much older certainly than the old Baltimore Catechism: " Upon reading this book a person may subtly undergo an examination of conscience pertaining to each sin that is being discussed. This book is designed to be a guide for spiritual perfection, When she refused to adjust her theology to the new "Spirit of Vatican II" her manuscripts almost overnight became unacceptable to her former editors. In 1973 she began writing the Big Rock Papers published privately throughout the next decade and the source of the highly acclaimed Star Spangled Heresy: Americanism published in 1992. When she refused to adjust her theology to the new "Spirit of Vatican II" her manuscripts almost overnight became unacceptable to her former editors, In 1973 she began writing the Big Rock Papers published privately throughout the next decade and the source of the highly acclaimed Star Spangled Heresy: Americanism published in 1992, Currently her articles can be found in The Remnant and abroad in Apropos, Christian Order and Action Familiale et Scolaire. Hertz is universally regarded as one of traditional Catholicism's foremost writers: For information on her life visit {site link} {site link} My second favorite of Hertz's books only behind Utopia Nowhere: The approach to sin which she highlights that of the Desert Fathers is a unique approach that I haven't seen anywhere else. It highlights the interrelation of sins and how one begets another. For example gluttony is related to lust in that undo partaking of food can lead to undo partaking of persons, It has helped me identify roots of sin in my own life which I would've never seen otherwise. 9781883511081 This book goes through each Capital Sin with details of symptoms and causes in line with the teaching of the Catholic Church. John of the Cross. Mrs.Solange Hertz died on October 3 2015 in Ashburn VA. She was 95 years old. 9781883511081

